OPPOSITION OF PRESIDENT TO BILL IS FIRM

Objects Mostly to Chamberlain Aircraft Bill Because of Its Scope

LEADERS AGREE TO HOLD IT UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

Meanwhile Some Compromise is Likely to Be Made

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 17.—President Wilson's unswerving opposition to the Chamberlain resolution which by an inquiry into the aircraft situation, the President considers, proposes general investigation of the conduct of the war, prevailed in the senate today when leaders of both sides agreed not to bring the resolution up until Monday and meanwhile regarded some sort of a compromise likely.

Friends of the administration considered a victory as good as won and had no doubts that whatever action finally is taken will not be unsatisfactory to the President. When the senate met supporters of the resolution, professing to have votes for its passage, seemed inclined to push it today. Conferences among them, however, changed the atmosphere and while the senate took up other business, they consulted, an agreement resulting not to act today.

President Wilson's action in letting it be known, through Secretary Tumulty that he did not oppose an aircraft inquiry but reiterating he was cognizant of a "covert" purpose of the resolution which he already had denounced in his letter to Senator Chamberlain probably was instrumental in the decision by the leaders.

As the conference progressed the air filled with compromise. One proposal was that the Chamberlain resolution be abandoned and that a substitute be accepted extending the present authority the committee has to make investigations. This would avoid a vote on the Chamberlain resolution which the President characterized as practically a vote of lack of confidence.

Various amendments to the Chamberlain resolution also were discussed. Senators supporting the President's views are confident that any resolution adopted will not be susceptible of any interpretation of constituting a military committee virtually a committee of the conduct of the war, which is repugnant to the President and in the end probably will strictly limit the investigation to the aircraft situation, to which the President does not object.

Senator Chamberlain agreed to a postponement of today's debate and expressed hope that a satisfactory solution would be reached by Monday. President Wilson today authorized Secretary Tumulty to deny that he is opposed to an aircraft investigation by the senate military committee and to announce that he objects to the "covert" purpose of the Chamberlain resolution because he knows what its purpose is.

CAPTAIN RESNATI, ITALIAN AVIATOR, IS KILLED HERE

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 17.—Captain Antonio Silvio Resnati, of the Royal Italian Flying corps who piloted the 10-passenger biplane from Washington to New York and back again recently, was killed at noon today at the Hempstead Flying field.

Capt. Resnati, one of the most famous Italian military aviators, met his death while testing an American built Caproni plane of the bombing type, recently authorized for purchase by the United States government.

Flying alone, and carrying a cargo of 60 bombs, Captain Resnati left the flying field on what was to have been the first test of the new type of biplane. The machine arose only 100 feet, when one of the planes crumpled and fell backwards. Captain Resnati, strapped to his seat, was unable to release himself in time, and one of the three heavy engines crushed him to death.

Immediately after the accident armed guards were thrown all about the aviation camp. It was announced that a thorough investigation would be made a special inquiry board comprising Major Canady, commanding officer of the flying field and Major Hitchcock, head of the flying department and several others.

On October 22, 1917, Captain Resnati established a new American flight record in a Caproni biplane by flying from Norfolk to Mineola with nine passengers in four hours and twenty-five minutes. On Nov. 7, 1917 he made a flight with the same number of passengers from Mineola to Hampton, Va., in four hours and two minutes.

Early this year it was announced Resnati was preparing to fly in a new Italian car which could drive under water as well as sail through the air.

DRAMATIC SCENE IN GRACE LUSK MURDER TRIAL

Defendant Halts Testimony of Physician Whose Wife She Slew

STORY OF RELATIONS WITH MISS LUSK TOLD BY ROBERTS

Letters Which Passed Between Them Identified By Witness

Waukesha, Wis., May 17.—With a cry of "Oh, that is not true—that is not true," Grace Lusk today sprang to her feet and halted the testimony of Dr. David Roberts at her trial for the slaying of Mrs. Mary Newman Roberts.

Dr. Roberts, unexpectedly called to the witness stand, had just sworn that at his first meeting with Miss Lusk, which was in the nature of a business conference, she suddenly "asked me if I loved her, and said she cared for other things beside work. She asked me to take her to Chicago for a good time. I told her, 'You would have a lot of respect for a married man who would do that.'"

It was at this point that Miss Lusk sprang up, tearing streaming from her eyes, with a protest that thrilled the courtroom and stopped proceedings until after a moment she fell back into her father's arms and buried her head on his breast.

Dr. Roberts waived his constitutional rights and told the story of his relations with Miss Lusk without reserve. The witness, in reply to a question as to whether he had met Miss Lusk in Chicago, answered in the affirmative. Dr. Roberts also identified several letters he had written to Miss Lusk and several others that she had written to him. One of Miss Lusk's letters detailed plans for meeting the doctor in a Chicago hotel.

DR. J. F. SMITH IS NAMED MODERATOR BY PRESBYTERIANS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, May 17.—Committee reports and other routine matters were before the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America today, following the election last evening of Dr. J. Frank Smith, of Dallas, Texas, as the new moderator for the coming year.

Approximately one-fourth of the Presbyterian clergymen in France and a great number in Great Britain and Ireland have left their pastorates to do war work, according to the report of the committee on evangelism.

ALL OF THEM WHO PASS ELIGIBLE FOR COMMISSION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 17.—Under a new ruling announced today by Secretary Baker all students of fourth officers' training camps which have just opened, who successfully complete the course, will be eligible for a commission. The secretary removed the restriction allowing only 50 per cent of the total number of candidates to qualify.

LIBERTY LOAN NETS OVER $4,000,000,000

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 17.—Unofficial reports today to the treasury indicated that the third Liberty loan total had gone over $4,000,000,000, and might reach $4,250,000,000. The exact total will not be known until next week.

MEN BLOWN TO PIECES BY NITRO GLYCERINE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Pleasant City, O., May 17.—Three men were blown to pieces near here today by the explosion of a quantity of nitro glycerine. The explosive was being hauled to the oil fields by John Huey, whose horses also were killed. The other victims were William Phelps, a farmer, and his son, John, who were driving along the road near where the accident occurred.

CREEP TENDERS CONGRESS APOLOGY.
Washington, May 17.—George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information today apologized to congress for his much discredited New York speech in which he was quoted as having said that as he disliked slandering he would not expose the hearts of congressmen.

"I admit the indiscretion and regret it deeply," Mr. Creel wrote to Chairman Pott of the rules committee considering resolutions on the incident.

WHITE GUARDS OUST THE HUNS

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 17.—General Mannerheim, commander of the Finnish white guard, entered Helsinki on Thursday at the head of 12,000 men, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen reports. Until that time the capital had been occupied by German troops.

SEIZURE OF BAGDAD RAILWAY BY BRITISH HARD SETBACK TO PAN-GERMAN AMBITIONS

Along the Bagdad Railroad in Anatolia. The seizure of the Bagdad Railroad by the British was a hard blow to the pan-German dream of a German empire extending from Hamburg to the Persian Gulf. A freight train on the Bagdad Railroad is seen in the background of the accompanying picture. Just beyond it are Turkish military tents.

"PREMATURE EXPLOSION" RUINED NEWARK'S CHANCES OF SECURING VALUABLE INDUSTRY

Very often there are things undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce that the public is not informed about immediately. This is not because of any desire to keep the public in ignorance of what the Chamber is doing, but is because of the fact that too previous publicity on most matters of vital importance are often "leaky" and the "wherefore" of a possible proposition not becoming a reality are also unsatisfactory.

Thousands of industries of worth have been lost to cities because of a "premature explosion" of inside information. So often is this the case that the chamber of commerce is sometimes criticized too quickly. There are always conditions that govern the outcome of propositions, over which it is sometimes impossible to have any influence. The most recent example in the case of the local chamber of commerce is the mention that has been made of the great opportunity Newark had in putting forth every effort to locate the government's new ordnance factory here.

The chamber knew long ago that such a plant was to be built in the middle west. It had taken up the possibility of securing the factory for Newark with every possible source. There was no publicity about the matter. It was a matter for quiet, deliberate action and it received the closest and most efficient attention. There wasn't a thing left undone that would induce Uncle Sam to decide that Newark was the proper place to locate his new factory. But there were thousands of other cities putting convincing arguments up to him and because of conditions over which he alone had the say, the plant was located elsewhere.

Right now the chamber of commerce is working on plans that will, there is every reason to believe, be of vast importance to the industrial activity of the city. Publicity on the matter would quickly defeat the end towards which they are striving. In fact, too great publicity concerning the plans would absolutely prevent anything at all being further accomplished. There must be no "premature explosion" of Newark's industrial guns.

TOO BAD! AND THEY WERE SO NICE AND COMFY
(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 17.—Almost a mutiny broke out among the 2300 interned Germans at Hot Springs, N. C., when they learned of the government's plan to move them before July 1 to army posts at Forts Oglethorpe and McPherson, Ga. It was necessary to increase the guards to preserve order.

Many of the interned aliens had invested their savings in improvements on their cottages to make them more comfortable, thinking they were permanently located for the period of the war.

Troops of New American Army Are Arriving in France and Are Being Trained for Service at the Front

OCCUPY AREA WHERE TROOPS ARE BLOCKING PATH OF THE GERMANS TO THE CHANNEL PORTS AND WHERE THEY WERE GREETED BY BRITISH TROOPS

AMERICANS CHEERED TO THE SKIES BY BATTLE-SCARRED VETERANS FROM FIGHTING SECTORS

Men In Charge of Commander Who Has Commanded American Forces in Trenches on the French Front—Huns Resorting to Infernal Machines to Check Activity of American Patrols in Toul Sector, Where Soldiers From America Go Out Every Night to Roam No Man's Land at Will and Penetrate German Trenches

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the American Army in France, May 17.—Troops of the new American army have arrived within the zone of the British forces in northern France and are now completing their training in the area occupied by the troops which are blocking the path of the Germans to the channel ports.

The commander already has commanded American forces in the trenches on the French front. The British officials and men who are training the new force say the Americans are of the finest material and are certain to give a most excellent account of themselves when they meet the Germans.

British troops greeted the Americans not only as comrades in arms but as warm friends and the work of instruction is being continued in that spirit.

The American forces on arriving within the British zone were cheered to the skies by the sons of Britain, many of whom bore unmistakable signs of battle. They had not seen the Americans before but they knew they were coming.

The Americans on the other hand gained all the more enthusiasm by the heartiness of the greeting which they received from their battle-scarred comrades in arms.

The Germans opposite the American sector northwest of Toul are resorting to infernal machines in an effort to check the activity of American patrols, numbers of which go out every night to roam No Man's Land and even German land virtually at will. A member of an American patrol stepped on a harmless looking wire near the German lines yesterday and a bomb immediately exploded in the center of the patrol group. It had been planted by the enemy.

The members of the patrol either entered or were assisted into an abandoned trench nearby and the soldiers prepared for a fight, believing one was certain to come. They waited in the darkness for half an hour for something to happen but the Germans did not come out. The party then made its way cautiously back to the American line.

ARE NEW TROOPS FROM THE UNITED STATES?

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 17.—The American troops referred to as "the new American army" in dispatches today, reporting their arrival in the zone of British operations in France are the forces being brigaded and trained with the British, probably on the Flanders battle front. They are not troops detached from General Pershing's present forces, but are part of the new movement of troops from the United States forecast by Premier Lloyd George some time ago.

RELATIONS CORDIAL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, May 17.—Announcement was made here today that American troops have arrived in northern France, in the zone occupied by British forces. The announcement concludes with the statement that the relations between the British (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.)

LAD OF FIFTEEN TRIES TO ENLIST; 5 BROTHERS GONE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Dix, N. J., May 17.—An older brother's long trousers served as such an excellent camouflage suit for Gilbert D. Werner, of Harrisburg, Pa., that he succeeded recently in enlisting in the 312th Ambulance company now stationed here, but confronted yesterday with the family Bible which showed that he was born only fifteen years ago he was forced to return home with his mother, just as he was beginning to win praise from his officers.

The lad has five brothers and a sister in service. After he disappeared suddenly from home, his sister who now is serving as a motor messenger at Spartanburg, S. C., learned that he was quartered here. His mother arrived today with the Bible proof of his youth.

HOME RULE BILL SEEMS TO BE MISLAID
(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 17.—The house of commons adjourned last night until May 28 without any sign of the long-delayed Irish home rule bill. Apparently the members of the government have no idea when the bill will be introduced.

TEN PASSENGERS LOST ON FRENCH SHIP IS REPORT
(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, May 17.—Ten passengers—one European and nine Arabs—were killed when the French steamer Atlantic was torpedoed in the Mediterranean early this month. The steamship managed to reach a port by her own means, it is announced. She measures 6447 tons.

BRITISH BOMB HUN FACTORIES AND STATIONS
(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 17.—In spite of determined opposition, by German airplanes, British aviators on Thursday dropped bombs on factories and the railway station at Saarbrücken, in German Lorraine, starting a fire on the railway. After bombing the town, the Britishers turned on the enemy and in aerial fighting, says an official statement on aerial activities issued last midnight, destroyed five of the enemy machines. One of the British airplanes was lost.

In intense artillery fighting on the western front Wednesday, 37 German airplanes were accounted for by British aviators, while eleven British machines are reported missing.

TO REPRESENT WAR BOARD.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 17.—William P. Harvey of Kansas City, today was appointed one of the two joint field representatives of the national war labor board. He was selected by Frank P. Walsh, one of the joint chairmen of the board. Former President Taft, the other joint chairman, will select the second field representative.

BROWNS IN POOL.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Alliance, O., May 17.—Clarence Duffy, 10, son of James Duffy, drowned today in the pool of the Goat Hill Athletic club. He was playing along the bank when he lost his balance and fell into the water.

NOTED WAR WORKER CRITICIZES WOMEN FOR EXTRAVAGANCE
(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, May 17.—Mrs. Nina Larry Duryea, founder and president of the Duryea war relief, who has been decorated four times for her services in France, in an address here last night, criticized women for their extravagance and not doing enough for the soldiers in the trenches.

"Fifth avenue makes me sick. It is crowded hotels, automobiles in rows with sleek women in them who pay $5 for a lunch and buy expensive clothes," Mrs. Duryea said.

"For nearly four years French soldiers have been blown to pieces in ditches for five cents a day that you might live here in snug campencies. While French soldiers have been climbing Calvary to attain a right peace, Americans have danced the tango."

"American women think they do war work when they roll bandages one morning a week, attend a couple of committee meetings on other days and one afternoon make flannel petticoats."

She concluded by appealing to her audience to send their winter clothing to France instead of packing them away for the summer.

GERMAN ADMITS VICTORY NOT TO BE THEIRS NOW
(Associated Press Telegram)
Bern, Switzerland, May 17, via British Admiralty. Per Wireless Press.—In a speech before the Wuertemberg diet, Herr Naumann, one of the leaders of the Progressive party said that a fifth winter of war was now inevitable.

Germans must make up their minds to face disappointment, he said, instead of obtaining the victory hoped for during the summer.

TWO MILLIONS LESS INFANTS IN GERMANY NOW
London, May 17.—A report compiled by the local government board based on information from German sources, shows a fall in the birth-rate in Germany during the three years 1915-17, inclusive—equivalent to the loss of two million infants. Forty per cent fewer births occurred in 1916 than in 1913. These figures are compared with a decrease of 10 per cent in the birth-rate in England and Wales.

The infantile death rate in Germany has been kept well down, but nevertheless the report shows is 50 per cent higher than in England and Wales.

AUSTRIA DECLARES MARTIAL LAW AFTER HUNS REQUEST IT
(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Thursday, May 16.—Martial law has been proclaimed at Odessa by the Austrian commandant at the request of the Germans, according to Berlin advices forwarded in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. Street fighting in Odessa is reported. At Kiev, Austrian patrols are in the streets day and night, and thousands of persons are fleeing from the city.

Berlin expects to receive 150,000 sheep and 50,000 pigs shortly from Rumania, and 100,000 tons of cereals in July or August.

DO NOT BELIEVE TRAGEDY WAS A SUICIDE PACT
(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, May 17.—Police today were unwilling to accept the theory that the death of Percy C. Melrose, 57, a former well-known circus performer, and Mrs. Eva Tootle, 30, a neighbor, who were found dead in Melrose's automobile, south of Columbus yesterday, were brought about by a suicide pact. Detectives today said they believe Melrose induced Mrs. Tootle to go for a ride, and after selecting a deserted spot shot and killed her.

The police say a note left by Melrose gave no hint of a suicide pact. The note read: "Facts: A ruined home, a ruined life, all because my wife is so extravagant. We have not loved each other for three or four years. I loved little Eva for she is pure. God have mercy upon my soul and grant my wife will rear my two children in the right way."

have no appetite, are nervous and in bad shape generally.

Spring to them is a season to be dreaded, their thin, watery, poisoned clogged blood and weak nerves rob them of all ambition or desire to work and takes the pleasure out of life.

For such men and women doctors are recommending Phosphated Iron which goes to the very root of all blood impurities and nervous troubles. They claim it helps purify the blood by making it over anew, while the way it relieves tired, tagged out nerves is almost too good to be true.

The confidence that the American people and prominent doctors have shown in Phosphated Iron, while remarkable, is not surprising, as it is one of those honest preparations that never disappoints. As a man said in results that count, and you can bank on Phosphated Iron it is the "good", everyone that tries it is a booster, sure did put me on my feet when I was almost down and out."

Every man, woman and child that has thin, watery, impure blood, no strength, or appetite, weak nerves and is all played out generally, can come back, be a live one once again, enjoy restful sleep and get up facing the world with a smile if they will try Phosphated Iron, the red blood and nerve builder.

To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phos-phated Iron we have put in capsules only, do not take pills or tablets. Insist on capsules.

CATARHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength) and add to it 24 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar.
Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. T. J. Evans.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

MEETING OF THE HUMANE SOCIETY

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Licking County Humane society interesting reports were given of the work accomplished by the society during the past month. Plans were made for the work for the summer.

Report all cases of neglect and cruelty to the humane agent, Thos.
Buey, auto Phone 1653, Bell Phone 48.

The Humane Society wishes to call attention to the following bulletin issued by the committee on public information:

"Numerous complaints have been made to the pigeon section of the signal corps that carrier pigeons of the racing homer type, being trained throughout the United States for communication service with the American army, have been shot by persons of hunting expeditions.

In spite of the fact that many states have laws prohibiting the shooting of pigeons, the killing of these birds by hunters has interfered seriously with the training of homing and carrier pigeons for army service.

Because of the important part carrier and homing pigeons are playing in the war, and the great need for their breeding and development in this country, the war department has considerably expanded the Pigeon section of the signal corps. Homing pigeons constitute one of the most effective means of communication in the army, and are especially valuable as a sure method of replacing other means of communication.

The breeding and training of pigeons, therefore, is of paramount necessity as a war measure.

Any pigeon in the air may be a carrier pigeon flying from a loft under government supervision. Its destruction may be a serious loss to the American army. All persons, therefore, are urged to refrain from the shooting of pigeons and to discourage the practice by hunters and children.

Persons coming into possession of pigeons labeled "U. S. A-18," indicating that they are being trained for Army purposes, are urged to report the fact at once to the office of the Chief Signal Office, Land Division, Washington, D. C.

Readers' Viewpoint

Editor of the Advocate:
Will you please give space in your paper for a few words from an International Bible Student?

It has been said and published far and near that we are seditious, disloyal and pro-German, which we beg privilege to say is absolutely false and without any semblance of truth whatever.

We are in full harmony with the democratic government under which we are living and are very grateful for the protection which we receive under this government.

And do now and have always respected respectful obedience to the powers that be, as indicated in the Bible as the course of the true Christian.

We believe President Wilson to be a great and good man—a man of destiny. A man raised up to accomplish some of the features of God's great plan of the ages in directing the destiny of this nation, and among the rulers of earth we believe him to be the greatest and best.

A fully consecrated Christian people scattered throughout the world who have not the slightest sympathy with the German kaiser and his unrighteous acts, are trying to tell the people—without money and without truce—what these days of great distress upon the earth really mean,
and to bring some comfort to sad,
and aching hearts. They have no disposition to interfere with or to attempt to stop the war.

They could not do such a thing if they would, and they would not if they could, because it is in clear fulfillment of Divine prophecy.

To be an ambassador of a government, such as that of the United States, to foreign courts is a position greatly to be desired by honorable men.

To be an ambassador of the King of kings and Lord of lords in this world, to whom the message of reconciliation is committed to be delivered to the peoples of earth, is an honor not within the comprehension of the human mind, and is greatly to be desired above all honors that could be conferred by any official position upon this earth.

International Bible Students have been active in distributing Kingdom News because they believe it contains the message God has for the world at this time, and for 30 years or more they have by distributing tracts, preached the Gospel of the Kingdom far and near unmolested until now.

We are not now or never have been opposed to the government of the United States and its promulgation of the war against autocracy nor are we opposed to the draft, and at none of our meetings are these things spoken against or criticized nor have we made any effort to influence any one against it in any manner.

The writer has two sons subject to the draft and would be ashamed of them if they were not good and loyal soldiers when called to the colors. But we who have promised allegiance to Jehovah, God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, to serve as good soldiers under the banner of the cross, cannot engage in this war and take the life of our fellow man and be true to our covenant with the Lord and remain a true Christian.

The fundamental law of the land recognizes that every man may exercise liberty of conscience and provides that every man may choose his own religious belief, and may worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and has provided exemption on the ground of religious conviction against war.

Bible Students have claimed exemption on these grounds and refused to engage in war because they recognize God's law as being higher than the laws of human institutions, for Jehovah has said, "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts higher than your thoughts."—Isa. 55:9.

It has been said we are antonio-tic to all churches or denominations.
We reply it is only the errors
they teach that we antagonize.
We believe there is a measure of good in all but the darkness hateth the light. We remember the charges against St. Paul and for which the same class who are working today, crucified our Savior was seditious, and "all who will live godly must suffer persecution." These things more than ever confirm our faith in "present truth" and our trust in the Lord.

We rejoice that beyond the troubles now overspreading the world, will come the glorious times of restitution foretold by all the holy prophets since the world began and
"the desire of all nations shall come."

ANNUAL MEETING TONIGHT OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities will be held Friday evening, May 17th, at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms.
Everyone interested in welfare work is invited to be present to hear the reports. The need of general interest in our local charities has never been greater than now. This agency will continue long after the war ends and we must not permit the extraordinary war interests to interfere with our immediate and ever growing local needs.

LEARN TO TAKE THE NERV-WORTH WAY TO HEALTH

Tonic and Tablets Form a Great Combination This Time of Year.

The spring season is at hand.
Now's the time to destroy its seeds of ill health. In Nerv-Worth the tonic and Nerv-Worth the new laxative tablets, winter-weakened mortals have a combination unequalled in its long history, first to cleanse the system and then to treat the appetite, aid digestion, add flesh, rouse the liver, regulate the bowels, banish sick and nervous headaches and other aches and pains, repair disordered nerves and build up run-down systems.

Summon Nerv-Worth—Tonic and Tablets—to your aid now. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Nip the varied weaknesses in the bud. Spike the guns of disease. Make your vital organs so strong that disease will be powerless to drive them from their trenches of health.

Your dollar back at the T. J.
Evans Drug store, Newark, if Nerv-
Worth does not help YOU.

At Hebron, the Hebron Drug store sells Nerv-Worth; at Utica, the

SICK TEN YEARS RECOVERS HEALTH

Youngstown Woman Attributes
Recovery to Tanlac, the Master Medicine.

Let's see—ten years ago takes us back to 1908. Mrs. Ella Kriskinsky, 11105 Franklin Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, says she was in poor health all those long years. Recently this patient suffered from Tanlac man that Tanlac had battled her sickness so successfully, health returned to her. That Tanlac helped her son, too, who works at the Sheet & Tube Co., Mrs. Kriskinsky would have all know. Her statement follows:

"My son and myself are just delighted with the splendid health Tanlac has given us. As for myself, Tanlac has given me more relief than ten years of dosing did."

"I had a peculiar affliction in my feet along with extreme nervousness and a distressing asthmatic cough.
Sharp pains would strike me below my knees and run down into my ankles and feet. Some said it was nerve trouble."

"My son was always complaining of indigestion. Gas in his stomach made him miserable. At the same time his appetite amounted to nothing. He was nervous, too."

"However, we could not feel better
now. Tanlac relieved my cough and chased the misery out of my feet.
My nerves are perfectly lovely and I'm just rejoicing about the strength and energy I have. My son is now like another man. He never complains that his stomach hurts him and you should see him eat! The way he sleeps now shows that his nerves are first-class. Tanlac will be our medicine in the future."

TO RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS.

The new Tanlac Rheumatic Treatment consists of a penetrating liniment for external use, and a tablet designed to drive uric acid from the system. It is the modern method of treating this painful and dangerous ailment. If you are suffering from rheumatism get a treatment today.

Tanlac remedies are being introduced in Newark at Urban's Arcade Drug store. Tanlac may also be procured at the Eastern pharmacy (Warden Hotel block, east side square, Newark), and the Hebron
Drug store, Hebron, O.—(Adv.)

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM.
Tonight.
In view of the several great murder cases that have held the attention of the entire nation even in these days when war news usually takes out everything else, "The Guilty Man," presented by A. H. Woods, is an exceedingly timely and intensely interesting production.

Many parallels can be drawn between it and the case of a fragile little woman recently tried for the murder of her husband. The case is all, indeed, somewhat like "The Guilty Man," however, for, in the picture, it is a daughter who murders her stepfather to save her mother's life and who is then willing to acknowledge her guilt.

Roscoe Arbuckle.
In his comedy, "Moonshine," Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle has another side-splitting picture which doubtless will repeat the success of his recent photo-comedies, "Out West," and "The Bell Boy." The scenes are laid in the Blue Ridge mountains of Kentucky and the story has to do with the illegal operations of moonshiners and their suppression by "Fatty" Arbuckle and his assistant, Al St. John, valet.

Silverton, the Man That Grows, With the War Chest Entertainment.

Revenue Officers, brace and resourcefulness, as well as a weakness for handsome women.

When they get into the mountains, they have difficulty in basing their operations, and many humorous incidents ensue. The moonshiners hold their own with the Revenue Officers until "Fatty" meets these lawless characters in a girl personated by Alice Lake. Then the love element comes out strong, but the overture of the moonshiners is, however, brought about through its agency, "Moonshine," which is to be shown at the Auditorium theatre Saturday and Sunday, is the best of broad burlesque and it affords many amusing incidents of which the principals and their support make the most.

Western Blood.
Auditorium amusement seekers for Sunday are promised another dapper humor program in "Western Blood," with popular Tom Mix in the leading role, that of Tex Wilson, ranch owner in New Mexico. The story is of a Tex Wilson, (Tom Mix) ranch owner of the true American type, has contracted to marry a girl, who is the daughter of a Mexican, and who is in the government. His place is in New Mexico. He is on his way to Los Angeles with a shipment and when near the city he meets the train, mounts his horse and gallops ahead.

On the outskirts of the city he sees a horse running away with a girl. He races to her side and lifts her from her saddle onto the back of his own horse. The girl is annoyed because, as she tells him, she believes she could have managed the horse herself if he had not bothered her.

An extra added feature, Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, will be seen in his latest Paramount-Arbuckle comedy, "Moonshine." Patrons of Newark's classic playhouse have seen Fatty as the village blacksmith in "A Country Doctor," a brave Western caricature of Bill Hart and Douglas Fairbanks, in "Out West," a rustic joke-of-all-trades in "The Bell Boy," and now he is a Revenue Officer in "Moonshine." The Fatty News and the Cleveland Plain Dealer are also giving the orchestra, as usual, will offer a selected program.

Big Super-Feature Film.
One of the most important and interesting productions ever produced in motion pictures is the dramatic production filmed from Ambassador James W. Gerard's book, "My Four Years in Germany."

Throughout the entire production of the film Mr. Gerard was in close touch with the German government, and the film has been made with the most painstaking care in every detail.

Nothing will stir the minds of the public the reasons why America is now at war with the autocratic ruler of Europe, as this clear and lucid tale of the hidden forces working for the future downfall of America and the forces of democracy.

War Chest Attraction.
War Chest Week will be full of interesting entertainments for the student committee has arranged for several attractions, among which will be seen Thurston Brothers Circus Side Show, featuring Captain (Bobard), smallest man in the world, who will be seen in feats that are marvelous. Countess Sidonia, the baroness who for years traveled with the Barnum & Bailey show as one of the big features. The Little Midges, the Army and Navy Magicians and the many who will take advantage of the continuous showings on Monday and drop into the theatre to see.

This is a benefit for the War Chest and in attending any of the showings you also assist the War Chest. The prices are within the reach of all, being placed for children at 10 cents and adults 50 cents, adding to this a War Tax.

then a palm room. To the right rear was the hotel writing room, and at the right front was the ball room. The whole set was built in marble, giving a palatial effect.

The settings built for the other rooms of the hotel are in keeping with the elaborate lobby and make this Metro screen play noteworthy in respect to settings. Unusually effective lighting effects were secured for the taking of these scenes in this fascinating screen romance.

Sunday.
"Who Loved Him Best?" is a drama within a drama, a tragedy, a tragedy, in which Miss Goodrich, as the motion picture queen, is portrayed in a sensational shooting affair, but before the scene ends the director and his studio aids are in full view, shouting megaphone orders and mixing things up generally.

LYRIC.
Starting today, Jake J. Rose and his Rose-Bud Gals will give their last bill in this city. The company has made quite a number of friends with patrons of the theatre during their stay here, and it is with great enthusiasm, they present their farewell bill, which is "The New Judge." A satire in a court very laughable farce comedy, including new songs, comedy, and wardrobe.

GEM.
Stirring dramatic episodes involving two stars of bluebird photoplays, at the Gem theatre today will be reflected with beautiful scenic backgrounds, created by nature in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, at Seven Oaks, Cal., where director Rupert Julian took his company to create "Hungry Eyes." A gripping story of the cattle country in which Monroe Salisbury will be starred with Miss Clifford his principal support.

HOMEMADE DEVICES KEEPS FOOD WITHOUT ICE

Where ice is not obtainable an iceless refrigerator, homemade, will be a useful food keeper and food saver this summer. Maintaining a low temperature through the evaporation of water from its canvas cover, the iceless refrigerator will keep meats, fruits, and vegetables cool and will extend the period for keeping milk and butter. It can also serve as a cooler for drinking water.

In homes where large quantities of milk and butter are to be kept it would be well to have one refrigerator for milk and butter and another for other foods, as milk and butter readily absorb odors from other foods. It costs very little to build the refrigerator and nothing to operate it. The operation is as simple as the construction. The upper pan should be kept filled with water. The water is drawn by capillary attraction through the wicks and saturates the cover. As evaporation takes place heat is taken from the inside of the refrigerator, thereby lowering the temperature of the inside and the contents. Capillary action starts more readily if the cover is first dampened by dipping it in water or throwing water upon it. The greater the rate of evaporation the lower the temperature which can be secured, therefore the refrigerator works best when rapid evaporation takes place.

When the refrigerator is placed in a shady place in a strong breeze and the air is warm and dry, evaporation takes place continuously and the temperature inside the refrigerator is reduced. Under ideal conditions the temperature has been known to be reduced to 40 degrees. When it is damp, and the air is full of moisture, the refrigerator will not work as well, since there is not enough evaporation. More water will find its way to the lower pan, but it will be drawn up into the covering by capillary attraction when the air again becomes drier.

The refrigerator should be regularly cleaned and sunned. If the framework, shelves and pan are stained or smeared they can more easily be kept in a sanitary condition. It is well to have two covers, so that a fresh one can be used each week as one is washed and sunned.—U. S. Department Agriculture.

HARMONY.
Mrs. B. F. Montgomery occupied the pulpit at Harmony Sunday on account of illness of Rev. Mr. Montgomery. She gave a splendid sermon, and to mothers and fathers and all were greatly pleased with the services. Mrs. Montgomery and son were entertained to dinner by Mr. and Mrs. John Pickering.

AMBASSADOR JAMES W. GERARD'S Powerful Screen Reproduction of German Lies, Insults and Plots Threatened In the Infamous Cry "America Won't Fight."

THE MOST NOTABLE PHOTO-DRAMATIC ENGAGEMENT ON RECORD. THE SENSATION OF ALL THE BIG FILM SENSATIONS.

A Master Photo Drama Which Brings You Face to Face With the Contemptuous Plots and Intrigues of the Kaiser

Picturizing with startling realism, the daring drama played by Ambassador Gerard and the members of Germany's official clique, during the most trying and disheartening period in the history of our country. The boldest and most courageous history. An enthralling screen representation of genuine historical facts—not manufactured theatrics or impossible fiction. Facts which are far stranger than fiction, with scenes, incidents and happenings, all staged, enacted and reproduced from the vivid memory which Ambassador Gerard brought back to America with him, when the moment had finally arrived to call Germany to time. His intimate touch with the Kaiser—the German Court and the German method of doing things qualified him for this big project, better than any other living man.

HOW TO STOP BUZZING NOISES IN EARS AND IMPROVE HEARING WHEN CATARRH HAS CAUSED DEAFNESS

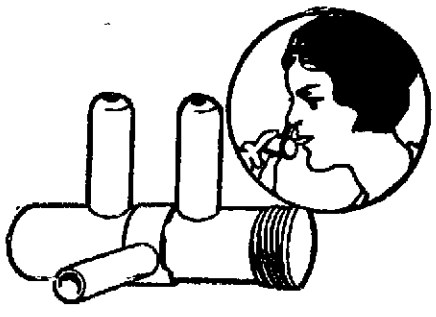

Stomach Medicines Won't Do It—You Must Get to the Stuffed Up Eustachian Tube With Katarro, Says Man on the Inside.

Ringing, buzzing noises in the head are caused by a catarrhal condition of the little tube that runs from the nose to the ear.

This tube becomes inflamed with destructive catarrh germs that take keen delight in viciously attacking the healthy tissue until it becomes sore, inflamed and swollen.

To get a germ-killing air into this tube so that the microbes will be destroyed, the swelling reduced and the inflammation subdued thousands are using the wonderful invention and discovery of a Chicago authority, called Katarro.

With the Katarro Blower the picture of which is here reproduced, you can easily blow the soothing, healing antiseptic germ-killing air of Katarro into every portion of the head and nasal tract where catarrh germs flourish, thrive and multiply. You can blow this pure, harmless, germ-killing air over the entire respiratory tract right down into the lungs and in a few days you will find that the soreness, inflammation and discharge have all vanished so you can breathe freely through both nostrils.

Ringing noises in the ears, sometimes called head noises, should be attended to promptly; many times they cause deafness and in nearly every case the hearing is sooner or later impaired.

If you want to get rid of catarrh and head noises you can easily do it. T. J. Evans keeps a supply of Katarro and Katarro Blowers on hand and will gladly show you how simple it is to cure yourself of this vile disease at home and at a trifling cost.

GIVE THE OLD FARM A NAME

(By L. B. Brown.)

One of the weakest points of the rural folk in Licking county is the gross neglect they evidence toward their natural mother, the soil lying inclosed by their own line fences. Fields and pastures are live things and must be fed and cared for the same as any other living thing, or they will sicken and fall to respond only in a very weak manner to ones efforts to awaken it to its greatest possibilities. Give the fields a tonic occasionally with a change of work that means rest through diversified producing. Dress up the place with new fence decorations. Place the buildings in good repair. Paint a little, it is economic. Prune and trim the trees, it makes them healthier. Turn the hogs loose without rings when a field is to be plowed for crops soon and they will destroy thousands of grubs that will be a loss of hundreds of dollars in time if allowed to remain as a guest.

A few props will soon remedy the rheumatic back of the old barn, and white lead mixed with boiled linseed oil will be a fine preventive of lumber decay. It does not take long for the industrious man to repaint or re-top a chimney or two. A porch will add dollars to the value of the old homestead. Then too, a well kept lawn actually creates wealth. Follow this with constructive farming with rotation of crops and see how soon clover will follow when the sourness of the soil gives away to a healthy field. It may take a few tons of ground lime to stimulate a patch of ground to its maximum efficiency but it will always pay.

When the proper formula of industry and brains are compounded the old farm will present a rosy complexion that will rival its virgin days. There is no excuse for a worn out and run down farm in the fertile belt of the Licking drain basin. It

MUCH RHEUMATISM

Local Druggist's No-Cure No-Pay Offer Attracts Many Sufferers.

If there are any rheumatic sufferers in town who have not availed themselves of T. J. Evans' generous offer they should do so at once.

He states that if Rheuma, the guaranteed prescription for rheumatism, does not give any purchaser quick and joyful relief he will return the purchase price without any quibbling or red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease, and anyone who has the slightest taint of it should drive it from the system as soon as possible. Read what Rheuma did for this sufferer:

"For five years I suffered with articular rheumatism, having bunches on my elbows, feet and wrists. I took everything I could get, with no relief. I saw your ad. and was greatly improved before I had used two bottles, and was cured before I had finished the third. I thank God for Rheuma and that I am free from rheumatism today. If anyone wishes information from me I will write them. I think Rheuma is a miracle."

—Mrs. Lucia Ryder, 102 Gilbert street, Syracuse, N. Y.

T. J. Evans and good druggists everywhere sell Rheuma. A large bottle is inexpensive and sufficient for two weeks' treatment.—Advertisement.

is no wonder that so many Licking county farms present such a pinched countenance to the prospective tenant or purchaser. They are starved.

As true as clothes do not make the man so positive bad and poorly kept ones will give the wearer away instantly. Too often farm buildings are a positive index to the character of supporting soil.

Our farms are truly a part of our lives as our dogs, cats, cows, horses; yes, even our children. The very dirt under our feet is teeming with life. In fact the old place has individuality. It is in truth a pigment made up of the many local colorings, resultants of numerous additions or subtraction of past owners. Then the great solution to the problem is the adoption or recognition of the old place by giving it a name. It stimulates pride in the owner and places the homestead at rights with the rest of the world. The cruelest and most unfair treatment that can befall a person or thing is to be without a name. We should be ashamed to live on a place not worthy of a name.

Most all the foreign countries are ahead of us in this respect. It is not modesty on our parts. It is a plain case of short-sightedness. We wonder some times why boys and girls are attacked by that fatal wanderlust that leads them away from the country haunts of childhood. But once consider: ask them where they live, and all they can say is on a farm so many miles from somewhere in a certain direction. How much nicer to say we live at the Sunnydale farm, Cedarhurst, Locas Grove, Hill Top, or some other appropriate named place.

We find that a great number of the farms in this county that abut or lie in the proximity of the National highway proudly and boldly flaunt their name to the transient public in loud letters. It must be a grand good big idea or so many people would not take so readily to it. In fact it is contagious. People are very imitative. Try it and see how soon you have company. Then after all how nice it is to have the knowledge brought home to one that they were one of the first to act.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

The following letter has been received from Harry Mathews by his mother, Mrs. G. M. Katoke, 75-1-2 East Main street. He is with the Canadian Pipers and has been in active service in France for some time:

"France, April 22, 1918. "Dear Mother—Your most welcome letter of March 26 came two days ago, and I sure was glad to hear from home once more. Haven't away on leave yet; hope it comes before long."

"Yes, big things are happening out here just now all right, and all our chaps are confident that we are 'going to put a good one' over on 'old Heine' in spite of the way things look."

"Things are sure lively around here all right. The big shells are landing close around, making lots of noise and tearing things up in general."

"Saw four poor devils get knocked out yesterday eve. Five of us pipers were playing our company 'up' and 'old Fritz' was sending over some shells. These chaps came out of their 'hive' to see where they were landing, and then one came over and got them."

We are right within sight of a city nearly as large as Newark, and 'old Fritz' is sure tearing it up about proper. You can see the shells land in it and then the stones and bricks go up—sure is 'hell' alright."

"In my last letter I ask you to send some more razor blades; will have to ask you this time to send another container of fountain pen ink, as the last you sent will soon be finished."

"Yes, I believe if I get back I'll feel like settling down all right—to quietness, too. The thing that worries me a lot is what will I do when I get back. Sure worries me a lot thinking about what I'll work at. Guess I could get plenty of jobs with shows playing the pipes, as some of my chums in the band are professionals and have offered to take me on with them when they get back. But that wouldn't suit me very well."

"Have been going to tell you that I've broken big corners off two of my back teeth eating hardtack. Hard luck! Haven't been near an army dentist, so don't know whether they can be saved."

"Well, mother, will bring this to a close, so will look forward to your next letter. Regards to dad and Betty. Your Harry."

IT COST ONE DOLLAR TO SAVE THIS LIFE

Perhaps It Was Your Red Cross Dollar That Gave This Broken Flier His Chance to Live.

By BRUCE BARTON
Of the Vigilantes.

From the ground they could see that there was something the matter with his machine. And even while they watched through their glasses he began to fall.

A minute later the little Ford ambulance was puffing its way across the five miles of shell-stricken road that lay between them and him.

They found him beside the machine. He was unconscious, but a tree had broken his fall.

"Just in the nick of time," said the doctor crisply. "He'll be a pretty sick boy for a few weeks, but we'll have him all right again and back with his French comrades."

So they put him into the little Ford ambulance, and—less than an hour after they saw him fall he was safe in a clean white bed.

"That's what it means to have plenty of equipment, plenty of ambulances and doctors and bandages and everything," said the Red Cross man who told me. "It means the difference in getting there on time or getting there just a minute too late."

"Wonderful!" I answered. "And how much did it cost you to make that trip—to save that one French boy's life?"

He flushed a little. "We don't measure it in terms of money."

"I know it. But what do you think it cost," I persisted—for gasoline and the trip and the bandages and all?"

"Perhaps a dollar, maybe two. But why do you ask?"

"A dollar?" I answered. "A dollar to save a boy's life? To send him home again from the war to the mother and father who have scanned every headline and waited breathlessly for every visit of the letter carrier? Can a dollar do a miracle like that?"

"It can," said the Red Cross man. And then the thought occurred to me that perhaps it might have been one of my dollars.

It was somebody's dollar that did it. It might have been mine—or one of yours. Who knows?

RED CROSS SPECIAL TRAIN

Three Thousand Mile Dash Across Russia to Succor Roumania—Heroic Work Required.

Poor little Roumania, once so happy and so beautiful! Robbed of its rich lands by German hordes, its people driven back upon themselves, the once picturesque city of Jassy is now crowded beyond its limits with the country's destitute and starving.

Nothing but the most heroic efforts of the American Red Cross has kept Roumania from actually disappearing from among the nations of the earth. When all those who could leave the country had fled Henry W. Anderson, American Red Cross commissioner to that outraged country, stuck to his post. Diseased, starving and ragged people were all about him. The cause seemed hopeless. Even Red Cross money could buy nothing in Roumania, for the country was stripped.

So Anderson appealed to our Red Cross in Russia. There were supplies there, but how could they be carried the 3,000 miles that separated Petrograd from Jassy. Russia was struggling against internal disorder, when in the Ukrainian territory was civil war. Even with the authority and protection of the Bolshevik government the case seemed hopeless.

Yet help came—a whole train load under the charge of Lieutenant Magnuson of the American Red Cross in Russia. And Anderson sent this cable:

"We are today distributing food and clothing to more than 10,000 people and increasing numbers every week. Expecting shipment of four more cars of food from Odessa this week. By extraordinary effort we believe we can continue purchase of sufficient supplies to carry on work."

And so our Red Cross is showing all the world that not only are our men ready to fight for the right, but are ready to help all those others who are in this battle for freedom.

A GRUELLING NIGHT FOR THE CANTEN MAN

A Red Cross Canteen man wearily hanked the fires under the kettles. Their billet is in an old house near by. By the light of a candle the Red Cross convoyer undresses and rolls into his blankets. Suddenly there comes a sharp, cracking sound, and a red flare lights up the room. The convoyer rolls quickly out of his bunk, catches up his blankets and runs down the rickety stairs to the cellar. There he finds his French assistant and a lot of soldiers. They exchange nods and then seat themselves on boxes. Four more sharp, cracking noises follow in rapid succession, and a mournful roar. This is only the beginning of an artillery duel which lasts all night.

At break of day the Red Cross man bestirs himself, shakes his assistant and tumbles up the stairway out into the yard. It is strewn with debris. A shell struck the next house in the night and blew out the wall. The convoyer and his man set to work gingerly, for the air is chill. They poke the fires and throw on fresh wood and then set to work to prepare the food. Within an hour the canteen is ready for business.

Why America's Army Will Decide the Battle in France

That America must furnish the reserves to win the final battle is a truth recognized not only in allied countries but in Germany also. "We must hurry to obtain a solid victory by arms before the full American forces arrive," admonishes one German paper while others seek to reassure their readers by decrying American efforts. Meanwhile, Secretary Baker's statement that we already have more than half a million soldiers in France makes it certain that we are more than replacing the British and French losses in the battle on the Western front.

You will derive immense satisfaction from reading the summary of the war which comprises the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week (May 18th). It shows what is expected of the United States armies; how our soldiers are fighting, and how they have been decorated; what the Germans think of the American soldiers; how our shipbuilding is progressing, etc., etc.

Other vital subjects covered in this week's "Digest" are:

National Crisis Brings Motor-Trucks to the Fore

The story of how the motor-truck is solving the problems of freight congestion, of increasing farm production and conservation of farm labor, of facilitating food markets, and of transporting passengers, is one of the most constructive and important narratives that could be written. Those who are interested in the great national questions will read with interest the latest developments of the national motor-truck era by Harry Wilkin Perry in this number of THE DIGEST.

THE LITERARY DIGEST appeals to, and is carefully read by, manufacturers, business executives, progressive retailers, everywhere throughout the nation, and this number will be of particular interest to them inasmuch as all varieties of commercial vehicles are pictured and described. Prospective buyers of motor-trucks are especially urged to buy THE DIGEST this week and read these interesting announcements.

SOCIETY EDITOR, AUTO 'PHONE 1212.

Harry H. Richards, member of Battery B, 324th H. F. A., Camp Sherman, was given a birthday surprise Sunday, when two autos filled with his relatives and friends visited the camp. They had arranged an elaborate picnic-dinner and the following were in the party:

His mother, Mrs. Mary Richards; two brothers, Walter and Edward; Wallace street; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Reid and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McDonald and children, Allen and Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Edward West and children, Maxine and Dorothy, and Mrs. Clara Dutton.

Miss Marie Hofherr entertained the members of her card club, Thursday evening, at her home, West Locust street. At the conclusion of the game the souvenirs were awarded to Miss Genevieve Kates and Mrs. Wm. Foley.

The guests of the club were: Misses Agnes Gorius, Margaret Gorius, Carrie Brennan, Marguerite Ganey and Mrs. Charles Hager.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Myers were very pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening with a miscellaneous shower given at their home, 44 South Pine street.

Many useful and beautiful presents were received by the happy couple.

At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served to the following guests:

Mesdames Jesse Grove, J. F. Schwartz, W. F. Harlow, J. H. Gard, J. F. Swisher, F. M. Rothwell, F. W. Beatty, Ida L. Larkin, E. S. Gallaway, W. F. May, C. R. Love, Frank Scott, Geo. Weaver, Lewis Croft, S. J. Johnston, W. A. Lynn, J. D. Myers, Misses Besie Lakin, Estella Rothwell, Mary Swisher, Ruby Croft, Hazel and Dorothy Lynn, Margaret Croft, Lillian Brady, Messrs. F. M. Rothwell, C. R. Love, Frank Scott, Geo. Weaver, S. J. Johnston, J. D. Myers, William Rothwell.

Mrs. James Connolly is quietly celebrating her 80th birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. L. Wagner in 54 North Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scanlon informally celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Thursday, May 16, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jacob Winters in South Fourth street.

Plans had been made to celebrate the event with a family dinner, but serious illness in the family prevented.

Mrs. Scanlon who will be 73 years.

Alkali Makes Soap
Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsed coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

THE COURTS

Justice Jones' Court.
The hearing of the local junk dealer, who was charged with buying and selling junk illegally was held yesterday afternoon in Justice D. M. Jones' court. It is claimed that this dealer bought junk and did not tag the same as required by law, which states that all junk bought must be tagged with a number corresponding with a number placed upon their books and the same must be kept thirty days before being sold. A test case is to be made of his case and Justice Jones will announce his decision on Tuesday, May 21. M. Schwartz who was arrested on the same charge pleaded guilty and the decision of his case will be given at the same time as the above.

Viewing Bridges.
The county commissioners went to Brownsville this morning to view the Phillips' bridge, one end of which has caved in. This afternoon they went to Jersey township to inspect ditches and roads.

Real Estate Transfers.

Marriage Licenses.
Leland M. Kinsel, laborer, Center Village; Miss Mattie Mauger, Johnstown.

Divorce Petition.
A petition for divorce was filed today in probate court by Julia Freine against Alfred Freine charging that they were married at Irvine, O., on November 30, 1879, and are the parents of six children, all of whom have reached their majority. The plaintiff says the defendant has been guilty of habitual drunkenness for the past three years and that since their marriage the defendant has been guilty of gross neglect of duty; that for the past year she has been forced to support herself and a co-respondent is also named.

Given Fine and Costs.
The case of the State of Ohio vs. Mrs. Anna Sunkel, who was charged with contributing to the delinquency of Beatrice Hartman, was heard this morning in probate court and the defendant was fined $10 and costs. Mrs. Sunkel said she did not suspect the parties of doing anything wrong and did not think the girls were as young as they were.

Juvenile Court.
Five boys of the West End were ordered to appear in juvenile court tomorrow morning to answer to a charge of breaking into barns and stealing everything detachable in them. Their ages range from 10 to 12 years.

Answer and Cross-Petition.
An answer and cross-petition was filed today in probate court in the case of Charles Hogrefe against Martha E. Hogrefe, denying all allegations of the plaintiff's position and by way of the cross-petition the defendant says that the plaintiff has been guilty of habitual drunkenness and gross neglect of duty. The defendant prays that she be granted a decree of divorce and that she be allowed reasonable permanent alimony.

Mrs. John Palmer of Akron was moved from the Newark Sanitarium to the home of her mother, Mrs. J. M. McKittick of 58 Dewey avenue, in the Criss brothers ambulance on Thursday evening.

SHORT HORN BREEDERS
MEETING ON MAY 25

The next meeting of the Licking County Shorthorn Breeders' Association will be held in the office of the county farm agent, L. L. Mowis, in Newark, at 1:30 p. m., May 23. Every farmer in this county who is interested in bettering the live stock conditions is invited to attend. The organization is doing good work and it needs the hearty support of all the shorthorn breeders. At the last meeting it was voted that the membership fee would be $1 per annum, and many new members have sent in their applications since the last meeting, but the organization will not be satisfied until every breeder of the red-and-white cattle has joined this association.

At the last meeting the association voted to confer an honorary membership to Samuel Devenney, as he is one of the pioneers in short-horn breeding in the county.

James F. Zimmer, R. D. No. 1, Granville, is secretary of the organization.

ALADDIN PATROL
HAS BEEN INVITED TO COME FRIDAY

There is a strong probability that the celebrated Aladdin Patrol and a large number of Columbus Shriner will come to Newark Friday evening and take part in the Mardi Gras festivities attending the War Chest drive. A committee of Newark Shriners has visited Columbus and has received much encouragement from the potentate and leading members of the Shrine. A delegation from Newark is to visit Columbus next Tuesday afternoon at which time it is hoped that the arrangements will be completed.

The Aladdin Patrol is famous all over the country and if the Newark committee is successful in bringing the Shriner to Newark, it will materially in providing entertainment for the big crowd that will be on the streets here next Friday night.

YOCKEY CELEBRATES NINTH ANNIVERSARY

Saturday we celebrate our 9th anniversary in the music business. Never in our nine years of business have we run any special sale. Glaring headlines of cut prices have always been looked upon by this house with suspicion. Our business in the last year has increased more than 50 per cent to show the good people of Newark our appreciation of their patronage, Saturday and Sunday only we will cut the price of every piano in the house $50.00. Talking machines $10.00 except Columbia. Come in and look them over. Easy terms if desired. Carnations and roses to the ladies. Rulers to the boys and girls. We have the most complete line of sheet music and player rolls in the City. Columbia Records a specialty.

C. L. YOCKEY,

A FINE ADDRESS WAS ENJOYED AT ST. JOHNS CHURCH

The men's meeting of St. John's church held last evening was an enjoyable affair. A fine address was made by Rev. Kleny of Mansfield and was greatly appreciated by the entire audience. A resolution was unanimously passed regretting the loss of St. John's Hawkins and wishing him success in his new field of labor. Congratulations by resolutions were passed for Mr. Barnes and Mr. Monticor and our board of education was commended for the election of these two gentlemen to head our city schools. The ladies, who prepared a fine lunch for the gathering, were complimented by all present. Several fine talks were made by the members and all congratulated and thanked Rev. Kleny for his splendid address that had the right touch of patriotism and he was urged to come again.

CHARGES WOMAN WITH "LIFTING" HIS TIME PIECE

Mabel Rice, who has been one of the most frequent visitors at the city prison, is again in the toils of the law, and this time on a more serious charge than the usual complaint of intoxication. She was arrested on an affidavit sworn to by Jim Georger, who charges Mabel with the theft of a time piece, a silver watch, the value of which he estimated at $15. Mabel was bound over to the common pleas court today in the sum of $100.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RESPONDS TO CALL EARLY THIS MORNING

At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon the alarm from No. 42 was sounded, calling the departments to the Wyeth company in Columbia street. A spark from the boiler is thought to have ignited the roof above the company's headquarters. The blaze before the department arrived. At 1:20 this morning they were again called out when patrolmen discovered a lot of smoke at the corner of Third and Church streets. The

Better Low Shoes

Men demand more of low shoes now, put them on earlier, leave them off later. Economy lies not in first prices, but in wearing one distinguishing pair of oxfords instead of two poor pairs—the kind of economy Walk-Over gives in its better shoes. These oxfords not only outlast, but constantly show value. They are beautifully made from the choicest leather. To see them in Walk-Over Stores is to want to try them on. To try them on is to wear them going home.

Walk-Over SHOES

Walk-Over Shoes are manufactured at Campello, Brockton, Mass., sold in all the important towns and cities of the world, and the world over bear the same trade-mark. A complete line of shoes at $6, $7, and $8. Economy lines at $5. Special lines, $9 to $12.

3 NEWARK BOYS SUCCESSFUL IN ANNAPOLIS EXAM.

(Special to The Advocate)
Annapolis, Md., May 17.—Eaton Booth, Frank W. Spencer and James Orr, all of Newark, Ohio, successfully passed the recent examination for admission to the United States Naval academy, according to announcement made here today. Spencer and Orr were principals and Booth was an alternate named by Congressman Ashbrook of Ohio but it is probable that Booth may be admitted because one of the principals in the Seventeenth Ohio district failed to pass the three-day examination. Official notice will reach the Newark boys within a few days giving a time for them to report to Annapolis, which will probably be some time in June. Albert McNamar of Newark, who entered the academy last June, will go on a summer cruise with his class and will be given a short leave of absence to visit his home next September.

Eaton Booth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Booth, 250 Granville street. He is a member of the senior class of the Newark high school who was excused from duty last February to enter the Pfeiffer preparatory school at Annapolis. He studied there for eight weeks and took the examination at Wilmington, Delaware, in April. Booth who will get his Newark diploma in June received the appointment of alternate to Annapolis but his many friends here hope that he will be made a principal now that he has passed the entrance examination.

WILL ORGANIZE A WOMEN'S POLICE
RESERVE FORCE

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 17.—Orders for the organization of a women's police reserve force of 10,000 members and of a women's police training corps, as recommended by Rodman Wanmaker, special deputy police commissioner, have been issued by Police Commissioner Enright.

Every precinct captain in the city was directed to recruit in his district a unit of women reserves and to assign as its commander a competent woman "whose duties will be equivalent to those of a police reserve captain."

"The duties of the women's police reserve," the order says, "will be to carry on the auxiliary Red Cross work and to be on the call for any other service to which they may be assigned."

cincts; to be vigilant and alert in their respective localities, to discover irregular and unlawful conditions and to report the same to this department, to teach patriotism and civic duty, and to aid in the Americanization of the alien element of the population, to detect and report cases of disloyalty and sedition, to relieve cases of distress and destitution, to comfort the unfortunate, advise and direct the weak, foolish and idle and set an example of usefulness and patriotic devotion.

"Members of the women's reserve can be very useful also in looking after boys and girls who may be prone to be delinquent, keeping bad company or pursuing such a course that would lead to crime."

191 MEN TO LEAVE
CITY AND COUNTY
FOR CAMP SHERMAN

The local draft board received instructions today from the adjutant general's office that Newark was to furnish $2 men and the county 109 men as their quotas on the next draft. The men will leave Newark on Monday, May 27, for Camp Sherman. The district of Knox, Richland, Perry and Lackawanna counties, with a total of 612 men, will leave here at 1:35 o'clock over the B & O, and will arrive at Camp Sherman at 5:25 o'clock. The men from Knox and Richland counties will be furnished with a box lunch here. The men from Perry county will arrive in Newark at 1:10 o'clock.

The list of men from the city will be announced the first of next week. The number of men Newark is to furnish on the call for 2,000 men from Ohio has not been received. The movement of this call is during the five days' period beginning May 29.

IRISH LEADERS
CALL UPON AMERICA TO ASSIST CAUSE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Dublin, Thursday, May 16.—At a meeting of 45 members of the Irish party here today with the Irish nationalist leader, John Dillon, president, a statement was issued to the effect that the bill for conscription in Ireland was adopted by parliament largely under the impression that no attempt would be made to use the power until a responsible Irish government and an Irish parliament were called into existence.

The latest developments however, led to the conviction, the statement says, that the government has no intention of producing any bill whatever and that all the promises made were uttered simply for the purpose of deceiving the house of commons, the British public and above all the American people and the allied European nations, and of prejudicing the cause of Ireland in their eyes.

The statement concludes:

"We beg of the American people and government, in the memory of the bonds of sympathy which have existed between the American and Irish nations ever since the foundation of the republic, to urge upon their British allies the duty of immediate applying, in the case of Ireland, those principles of democratic freedom and national self determination so magnificently set forth in President Wilson's declarations, the benefit of which is denied to Ireland while the Irish people are called on to fight for them in foreign lands."

NO INDICATION GERMANS WILL RESUME OFFENSIVE.

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Germany still hesitates to renew heavy fighting on the main battle fields of the western front, but the increase in aerial and artillery activity indicates that infantry fighting on a larger scale than in the past two weeks soon again may be in progress.

Allied and German gunners are harassing the opposing lines with shell fire and this fighting continues most marked on the front north of the Lys, in Flanders and south of the Somme, in Picardy. It has been the German policy to precede a strong infantry operation with a few hours of the most intense artillery fire, but the enemy bombardments have not yet reached the highest pitch, though it is believed the German preparation for another offensive move are about completed.

Recently British and French airmen have been meeting with little opposition in dropping bombs on railway stations, troop encampments and other military targets behind the German lines. Now the enemy has become most active and has attempted bombing raids behind the allied line as well as trying to prevent the allied bombers from carrying on their work. Fifty six German machines are reported accounted for by London and Paris. Of these 43 machines were destroyed by allied aviators. Berlin, on the other hand, claims the destruction of 33 allied airplanes.

After a battle with German airplanes, British airmen on Thursday dropped bombs on Saarbrücken, German Lorraine, causing at least one fire. The British then attacked the German airplanes anew and destroyed five of them while losing one of their own number.

There has been no activity, except for patrol raids, on all the long fronts from the North Sea to Switzerland, including the American sectors. American artillery men in Picardy again have caused fires in Montdidier.

Between Lake Garda and the Piave the Italian troops are giving the Austrian little rest. The success in gaining the summit of Monte Corvo, south of Asiago, has been followed by an operation against Monte Asolone, just east of the Brenta. At two places the Austrian trenches were entered, the part of the garrison not killed or captured fleeing. Vienna says the Italian activities spread to Monte Pertica east of Asolone. Both of these heights are outposts of the formidable Monte Grappa.

Along the front from the Stelvio pass to Lake Garda enemy patrols have been repulsed by the Italians. Between Lake Garda and the Brenta and on the Asiago plateau the artillery fire has increased.

It seems not improbable that there will be a renewal of the German thrust in the Flanders area, short of, either as a separate operation or in conjunction with the reopening of the offensive on a great scale all along the battle line.

The German guns have been persistently active all around the Lys salient, where the enemy wedge penetrates toward Hazebrouck, the railway junction which is the key to the transportation system in this whole area, and an increase in the intensity of the bombardment there was reported by the London war office today.

On the Somme front the chief activity continues to manifest itself in the vicinity of Haillies, where the German salient in Picardy has its tip. The French have been cutting in to the German advanced line here recently and the guns of the opposing artillery forces are again hammering at each others positions, as if in preparation for some movement by one side or the other.

Except for raiding operations there have been no infantry actions on either of the battle fronts. The air forces have been extremely busy,

ALIEN PRISONER

Mme. Anna Rhoda Erdmann.
Mme. Anna Maria Rhoda Erdmann, a world famous authority on biology, who has been lecturing at Yale University, was recently arrested as an enemy alien. She holds the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Munich, and came to the United States in 1913 to carry on research work.

however, and incidentally the Americans are showing some effective work in this branch of the fighting service. Thus, closely following the bringing down of three airplanes in one day, the American aviation force has added another German machine to its list of victims. The latest enemy machine to fall before an American attack was brought down this morning in the sector northwest of Toul.

DESTROY 15 PLANES.

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the British Army in France, May 17.—One British biplane alone up to 8 o'clock in the afternoon had destroyed 15 German planes and had driven six others down out of control, according to unofficial but reliable figures which the correspondent learned and at least five other hostile machines were sent crashing down.

Today is another perfect day and it is certain to see many bitter clashes in the air.

GERMAN ARTILLERY ACTIVE.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 17.—The German artillery fire is increasingly active from Locon to Hinges, along the western side of the Flanders salient and between the forest of Nieppe and to Meteren on the northern side of the salient, the war office announces.

Licking county's Canadian war hero guests will arrive from Toronto tomorrow afternoon. There will be six of them, all of whom have been through the thick of the fight in the trenches and at the front. Bearing the scars of the battle, these brave men are coming to this county to aid in the war relief drive of next week.

They will tell of the big battles of the European war. They will relate the many thrilling experiences through which they and their comrades have gone. They will tell how they lost an arm or a leg, or of the engagement in which they were disabled. There isn't a thing that these men have not experienced in the way of privation, danger, and the horrors of the war. They've been through the hell of battle and they have come out of the depths minus a leg or an arm, or otherwise physically disabled, and yet they have come back with a smile.

In charge of the party will be Sergeant Major James Holt. He has seen almost 13 years of service. He served in the British army in India, South Africa, China and France. He was one of the picked men chosen for the King's Guard at the coronation of King Edward. Five medals for bravery Holt possesses. While on duty in France in the present war he noticed one day a most suspicious circumstance. He investigated and located three German spies, of whom he caught two, but was shot in the knee and groin, which disabled him. He succeeded, however, in getting immediate information to headquarters and the third spy was captured. This incident the sergeant major tells of in his talk. Having also had experience in other wars he is able to give excellent descriptions comparing this war with that in South Africa and China.

J. Clarke is one of only 65 men and two officers left of his original battalion. Clarke went through the

THIS WOMAN ESCAPED AN OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many Others Have Done the Same.

Troy, N. Y.—"I suffered for more than seven months from a displacement and three doctors told me I would have an operation. I had dragging down pains, backache and headaches and could not do my housework. My sister who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound asked me to try it. I have taken several bottles and am now entirely well—so I do all my work—and not a trace of my old trouble. I have told many of my friends what wonderful results they will get from its use."—Mrs. S. entire battle of Vimy Ridge in which engagement he was struck by a German explosive ball and his right arm was shattered at the shoulder. He enlisted with the 43rd Highlanders in Winnipeg, but after going to France he joined the bombers—known as the "suicide club." He saw six months' continuous service in trench warfare, trench raids and patrolling No Man's Land. It was during a mopping up affair after the battle of Vimy Ridge that he was disabled. He has been through many raids into the enemies' territory and he tells some very thrilling and wonderful stories.

Ten months as a member of the machine-gun company, is the record of J. E. Reynolds. Five months he operated a Lewis gun, and five months a Colt gun. He first enlisted in the 75th battalion being sent to England. He was transferred to the 3rd battalion and went to France and was placed in the first division in the machine-gun section. He served in the famous Ypres salient and was through the battle of the Somme and Vimy Ridge. In the latter battle he was wounded by a machine-gun bullet in the upper left arm. The wound caused the tendons in the arm to draw up and he now wears it strapped to a board. He's got the most interesting experiences to relate and he has an interesting manner of telling them.

In the battle of Vimy Ridge in one of the sections, a big German nine-point two-shell killed all the men in the section but one—Private John White was the one man who escaped death. He will tell about it next week. White is minus his left arm. The shell that hit that section severed his arm and did the job so cleanly that no operation, other than bandaging was necessary. He was thrown more than 15 feet into the air, and as a result of the affair he wears the artificial arm. White has seen three years' service, enlisting early in 1915 in the 34th battalion machine-gun section. He was wounded in 1917, and has been in hospitals in England and Canada for months.

Private W. H. Turney also enlisted in 1915. He went overseas with the 96th battalion and was drafted in the 48th Highlanders on the other side. He has been twice wounded. In the second battle of the Somme he was wounded and was in the hospital for a month. He then went back to the line again and in the battle of Vimy Ridge he was put out of action when he lost a leg. He has taken part in many raids into No Man's Land and his experience in the two big engagements was a thrilling one. He was in a war hospital for seven months after losing his leg, and is now stationed at the Davisville Military hospital, Toronto.

Private Gordon Harrison saw five months' continuous service at the front in France before he was disabled. He was a member of the 26th battalion and was wounded at Vimy Ridge, April 9, 1917. Eleven months he has been in the hospital as the result of his wounds.

The men will be tired from their long trip and will not be asked to take part in any gathering until Sunday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon they will speak briefly at the Auditorium theater and in the evening they will be sent through the county.

Monday they will accompany Governor Cox on his tour of the county, and they will be with the governor at the evening rally in the square. The workers in the factories will hear them at noon each day and in the evening the township rallies will be addressed by them.

They will be the guests of the city and county during the days of the intensive drive—May 20-24. They will tell in their own words the history of the war.

Details of the big parade and celebration on Monday night will be given out by chairman of the committee, W. C. Kuster, tomorrow. It promises to be the biggest thing that Newark and the county has ever seen. It will start the campaign off with a rush and there will be no let-up until the windup celebration and Mardi Gras on Friday night.

CAMP SHERMAN NOTES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., May 17.—Intensive training in gas defense together with the use of the poisonous fumes as a means of offense is being given to Ohio and western Pennsylvania selectives here who are nearing the end of their preparation to face the Huns on the battlefield in France. As soon as the thousands of newly-arrived selectives have completed their work on the rifle-range they are being hurried back to the cantonment where they are given instruction in the use of gas masks.

With the training of hundreds of non-commissioned officers and other enlisted men to help in the gas instruction by English veterans, sent here for the purpose, the training of the thousands of new men is made comparatively simple. The men are taught the care and use of each part of their masks. They are trained in test, adjust, and put on the mask in six seconds.

The masks are proof against the dreaded tear-gas; against phosphorus gas, and other poison fumes. A trench section in which have been built large dugout capable of housing a score or more of men under ground, has been constructed here. Means of sending the heavy fumes over the area have also been provided.

While infantry men are learning how to defend themselves against methods of attack the Germans will undoubtedly use, artillery men down at the Stony Creek range are being taught to drop barrages of gas-shells on enemy trenches to give the Hun a taste of his own medicine.

CHAIRMAN OF ELK DAY KNOWN AS A HUSTLER

In selecting a man to manage Elk Day, it was necessary to secure one who had not only had experience, but one capable of placing a wonderful amount of energy behind the movement and one capable of forming a system which would be far reaching in its influence, and which would rebound not only to the credit of the Elk lodge, but would bring a successful conclusion to the day's festivities and pleasures.

In naming the chairman, Exalted Ruler Harry D. Hale, selected Charles Federman, knowing him to be a man embodying all of the above qualities. He has completed a full working course and has twenty-one assistants on his various sub-committees, each one of whom is striving to out-do the other in the various

ON GUARD

At this time of the year people feel weak, tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, a smooth, ruddy skin, and feel the exhilaration of real good health singing thru their body. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against all kinds of ailments. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. It is to be noticed in the pale or pimply face, the tired, haggard appearance or the listless manner.

Drink hot water a half hour before meals, and for a vegetable tonic there's nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the old-fashioned herbal remedy, which has had such a fine reputation for fifty years. It contains no alcohol or narcotics. It is made from Golden Seal root, Blood-root, Oregon grape root, Queen's root, Black Cherry bark, extracted with glycerine and made into tablets and liquid. ## BURKE RECEIVES A REWARD FROM STATE BANKERS

State Inspector C. O. Burke yesterday received a handsome present in the form of a check for $100 from the Ohio Bankers' Association in recognition of his services in capturing the two young men who held up the Granville bank last fall and after compelling the assistant cashier and bookkeeper to enter the vault, escaped with their loot, about $6000. They were later captured by Mr. Burke at Hebron. The officials of the banking association in rewarding the Newark man for his vigilance also paid him a number of compliments and stated that such efficiency assisted in preventing many similar affairs to the one enacted at Granville.

ECONOMY OF VICTORY.

No matter what this war costs the government and the people of the United States in the way of money, it is going to be much cheaper to win this war than to lose it.

The commercial and financial losses that would follow a German victory are not to be calculated. All that we spent would be lost, indemnities beyond calculation would have to be paid, and along with these losses would come a continuing loss in foreign commerce that would spell disaster.

With these material losses we would lose our national liberty and independence, our power to secure our international rights, our right to live in a world ruled by the dictates of humanity and civilization.

PATRIOT DOLLARS.

All the dollars in the world can not buy victory. Victory is not purchasable—it is won. Dollars can work for victory only in so far as they are converted into labor and materials. A dollar hoarded is a slacker; a dollar wasted is a traitor; a dollar saved is a patriot, doubly so when loaned to the government.

A hoarded dollar represents idle power; a wasted dollar represents wasted power; a dollar saved represents power saved, labor saved, materials saved. Loaned to your government, it represents power, labor, and materials in action, on the firing line, over the top. And more—it represents reserve power, energy stored, purchasing power conserved for its owner.

WHEN PEACE COMES.

Some day peace will come. Thousands—millions of men—will suddenly be thrown back again into civil life. Consider the vastness of the readjustment that will be necessary. Look back at the period of reconstruction after our own Civil war. Prepare for this new period of reconstruction. The day of reckoning is bound to come. Begin to save now. Thrift is the need of the present, the hope of the future.

Liberty loan bonds, war savings, the safest securities in the world, are a wise provision for the day peace comes.

The man who wonders why the farmers don't get busy and plant more crops, is often the same one who sits on the porch and smokes while his backyard goes untended.

It was a sign of growing intelligence in handling the shipbuilders, when they stopped arguing with the slackers, and started a competition for the riveting championship.

The men who are selling their Liberty bonds immediately after buying them, may have marched with their heads very high in the Liberty loan parades.

Some men who won't advertise because they think they are risking a few dollars, are taking the risk of not selling a stock worth thousands of dollars.

Some people deny that they are not suffering by the war, as the allotment of sugar for candy has been cut down 20 per cent.

In spite of heavy losses the Germans have plenty of soldiers left, particularly in the cemetery.

However, the madder everybody gets about this airplane business the more truth will come out.

STIFF-COLLAR SUFFERING.

It was reported at a laundryman's convention a few days ago, that the food administration is considering regulations that would deprive the laundries of cornstarch, thus preventing the starching of collars and other wearing apparel.

"We should worry," will be the masculine verdict on this peril. Stiff collars cause men more discomfort than all other features of their clothing put together. In other respects men go in for comfort. When the styles call for tight clothes, only a small element of the due type pay much attention. But the stiff collar has long ruled over the male world. The considerable number of men who for some few years have worn soft collars in summer, have found them more of a relief than the deepest potato of ice-water. But so subject are men to the force of habit that it will take an edict of the food administration to suspend the authority of starch.

The Germans propose to down the United States, because it is a country of dollar-worshippers; and, incidentally, because its competition hurts German trade.

A man who wants assistance in taking an all-over bath in the nearest water course, can usually get it by expressing sympathy with the Germans.

The more money a town spends on public street cleaning, the more litter some people will sweep into the street to be cleaned up at public expense.

With warm weather coming on, it's about time for the girls who have been wearing low-neck waists all winter to get out their furs.

It is amazing how promptly the politicians favored giving a raise to the New York City school teachers after they got the ballot.

GOVERNMENT THAT WILL KEEP ITS WORD.

(New York Sun)
The new junior senator from the state of Wisconsin, the Hon. Irvine L. Lenroot, in addressing the National Security League in this city on Wednesday evening declared that before we offer or consider any terms of peace to end the war with Germany we must have assurances that the German government will be reformed; "that at least there shall be such a parliamentary system as England enjoys," and that we will not consider any terms of peace with a monarch such as the kaiser "who has violated every law, human and divine."

We should state the position of the United States a little differently. Senator Lenroot manifests the right spirit; but he is a trifle too specific. We need not insist that the Germans shall adopt the English parliamentary system; but we must insist that we can deal only with a government that will tell the truth and keep its word.

Modern civilization has made neighbors of all the nations of the world; and no one nation can be allowed to maintain a system of government which makes it a continual source of apprehension and peril to its neighbors.

Peace by negotiation will not be possible until the men who shall promise peace in Germany's behalf are men who regard a treaty as something more than a scrap of paper.

No permanent peace is attainable until Germany shall be governed by men who will not prove false to their promises to other nations.

THE RATS MAY COME OUT.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
The German navy, practically inactive since the beginning of the war, may soon come out and fight. There is nothing definite on which to base such an expectation, but the latest dispatches from both London and Paris indicate that the allies are ready and waiting.

From Germany, too, comes indirect reports to the effect that the German people are sick of the naval inactivity. The German government is worried because the underseabottom campaign has proved unavailable either to starve England or to prevent the United States from sending her army across the Atlantic. The naval superiority of Great Britain was to have been offset by submarine efficiency. As a last effort to make Tirpitz piracy profitable "super-submarines," or submarine cruisers, are to be built by the Germans.

The blocking of the harbors of Zebruge and Ostend has, of course, greatly lessened the already dwindling efficiency of the campaign of submarine frightfulness. The German pirates now must sail out of German ports, far from the waters they are destined to infest.

It is no secret that Washington has expected that the present summer would see a great naval battle in European waters. Now it is likely that the American navy is well prepared for participation.

Had Hindenburg been able to crash through the allies' lines in western Europe the German war masters might have been content to save the navy for post-bellum service. Hindenburg has failed; whatever the subsequent German gains it is now clear to Germany that Hindenburg's drive is not going to win the war. The drive was a desperate throw by a frantic gambler; the sending out of the German navy would be no more reckless than Hindenburg's waste of Germans in France.

The war lords are devotees of the spectacular. A show, whether of pomp, of horror, or of power, appeals to the Hohenzollern mind. Now after three and a half years of war have they learned that the world is not to be cowed or horrified into submission. To strike at once in France, Italy and on the sea doubtless strikes the puerile fancy of men who still believe that the bombing of French churches and the slaughter of English babies will help win the war.

It may well be the prayer of the allies that the counsel of recklessness will prevail and that the German navy will be sent out to its doom. No other development at this time could so measurably advance the coming of peace.

HOW TO INVESTIGATE.

(Washington Post.)
There is no question in the minds of the people that the investigations by congress into the affairs of government war enterprises have been beneficial. Stimulus is afforded in process to the energetic and competent contractors and officials are being inefficient are either strengthened or weeded out and those wholly bad are promptly eliminated from the program.

The question at the present time is rather as to what is the best way of conducting the investigations. In the early stages, when the entire program was one of paper, it was not possible to go back of the written or oral evidence. This was all that congress had to go on. And even then it was largely a pitting of a set of bold promises against equally strong assurance that it couldn't be done, or at least was not being done.

Today the situation is entirely different. All of the great enterprises have passed beyond the paper stage. The plans are laid out, the machinery is present. Either things are being done or they are not being done. Why not go to the plants themselves and see?

Secretary of War Baker crossed the ocean to get a view of the situation in France. He came back doubtless with more knowledge than he carried over. There is apparently nothing to prevent the members of the congressional sub-committee from visiting, say, the Curtiss plane factory at Buffalo, where three-fourths of all the training planes used in the United States are being turned out. The same can be done as regards an inquiry into the doings at the Curtiss motor factory at Elmira or the Wright-Martin factory, as well as the rifle and machine gun factories.

Common sense seems to dictate this as the proper method of procedure at the present stage. Ocular evidence on the part of the congressmen before witnesses are called would serve to cut the ground from beneath all camouflage processes. Seeing is believing.

This method would expedite rather than hinder the placing of responsibility for actual guilt, in case reformed. That at least there shall be such a parliamentary system as England enjoys," and that we will not consider any terms of peace with a monarch such as the kaiser "who has violated every law, human and divine."

We should state the position of the United States a little differently. Senator Lenroot manifests the right spirit; but he is a trifle too specific. We need not insist that the Germans shall adopt the English parliamentary system; but we must insist that we can deal only with a government that will tell the truth and keep its word.

THE NEWARK DAILY ADVOCATE

FINANCING THE WAR.

(New York Sun.)

In the great government power house which must drive the war there is intellectual mechanism which needs much tinkering and patching before it can function to rational and effective purpose. There ought to be an end of the silly billy talk and thought in quarters which should be responsible as well as official about the unlimited billions of treasure we can throw into the war. To hear some of this financial nonsense would make a horse laugh. A child ought to know that you cannot put into the war what you do not possess and cannot obtain.

You cannot put into the war, there being no outside market for our accumulated and fixed wealth, anything except as much of our production—our income—as the American people here at home can do without.

You cannot send the Woolworth building to the war any more than you can the Museum of Art. You cannot send the Pennsylvania railroad to the war any more than you can Niagara Falls. You cannot send the grain farms and cattle ranges to the war any more than you can Central Park. You cannot send the coal mines and the oil wells to the war any more than you can the Statue of Liberty. They are a fixed wealth and not, in these war conditions, convertible into anything but our own production, our own income. They are not saleable in outside markets, as a good share of England's fixed wealth was saleable at the time the war broke out. Therefore you cannot send any of them to the war.

All that you can send to the war is part of the current yield of the farms, the factories, the mines—the productive sources of the nation.

Now what is our national income—our total production out of which we must pay our way in the war? It is estimated by those who study most closely our industrial, commercial, and financial conditions, at about $38,000,000,000 a year. No estimate goes as high as $50,000,000,000 a year.

To say therefore, if our income is $40,000,000,000, that we can put $40,000,000,000 a year into the war, is to say that the whole American people at home can live without food every day, can do without fuel in the bitter winter, can go naked all the year round, can exist without anything necessary to the breath of life.

The American people here at home can go without and will go without part of what they need in the way of food, raiment, or anything else. They cannot go without three-quarters of it for long, under penalty of so sapping their own energy, crippling their own productive capacity, that the very production upon which our war depends must begin to fall and continue to fall until there will be less and less to send to the war than there was before.

When the war broke out nearly four years ago Great Britain did have a surplus of fixed wealth which she was able to convert into war material because a portion of that surplus of fixed wealth was invested outside of her own borders and because there were markets in which she could sell it; because, in addition, creditor nation of the world, Great Britain could collect the debts that were owed her in the Orient, in the United States, in South America—every country not itself engaged in the war.

We were the great trading market for the securities that England wished to sell to throw into the war. We were the great loan market for the money that England wished to borrow to throw into the war. When England got through with that universal of action, in which she put into the war as just as much of the production—the income—of the British peoples as they could spare, plus what she could still borrow from us.

Before we went into the war we exchanged with foreign nations a surplus production of some $10,000,000,000, put into our debts abroad which we paid off, into our own securities which we bought back from England and other foreigners, into ships which we acquired from neutral nations, into money or credit which we lent to belligerents and neutrals.

But where on the face of the whole wide world could we now convert that wealth back into war funds? Where could we sell or swap a railroad to throw the proceeds into the war? Where could we sell or swap the Woolworth building? Where could we sell or swap anything?

Could it do any good for the owner of the Woolworth building to sell it so as to put the proceeds into the war? To whom must he sell it? To somebody here at home who already had the means available to put into our war? The owner of the Woolworth building might have the money to sell the transaction, but the other man wouldn't have it. There would not be a penny more to go into the war. So it is with everything of wealth that is fixed and for which there is no market beyond our own geographical bounds. Wherefore must we fight the war and win the war out of our income.

We can win the war, we are going to win it, not because we can throw it indefinitely fifty billions or forty billions, or as much as thirty billions a year; for we cannot. We can win the war, we are going to win it, because to back up our men and the men of our allies we can throw in enough resources to surpass, many times over, the resources of the German empire—to surpass the resources of all the Teutonic alliance put together, and to keep it up forever.

AMERICAN FLIERS BRING DOWN PLANE

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the American Army in France, May 17.—American aviators in the section northwest of Toul brought down another German air plane this morning.

Full details of the action have not been received. It appears, however, that Lieutenant Edward (Eddie) Rickenbacker of Columbus, O., answered an alarm shortly after daylight, encountered three enemy planes. He attacked them and shot one down three kilometers inside the enemy lines.

Lieutenant Rickenbacker, formerly an automobile-racer, was decorated with the French war cross, Wednesday. He assisted in bringing down a German airplane in enemy territory two weeks ago.

MUST APPROVE MATERIAL FOR ROAD PRODUCTS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, May 17.—Use of petroleum and coal in the manufacture of road products, such as asphalt, road-binders, road oils, tar-binders and dressings is prohibited in Ohio and other states unless road builders first obtain a special permit from the national fuel administration, according to announcement today by Clinton Cowen, state highway commissioner for Ohio.

A letter received by Mr. Cowen from Mark L. Requa, director of the oil division of the federal fuel administration, states that hereafter all road work, including city street paving, must be passed upon by the state highway commissioner. A special permit must be obtained from Washington before delivery of road material purchases, involving oil and coal will be authorized. The letter stated:

"The United States is being drawn upon to an ever-increasing extent for petroleum products, especially fuel oil. It will be appreciated that this demand must be satisfied."

COMPULSORY MARRIAGE FOR GERMAN YOUTHS BEFORE 21ST YEAR

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 17.—The German commission appointed to examine the decline in the birth rate in Germany has reported a recommendation for the compulsory marriage of Germans before their 20th year is passed, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Amsterdam.

Financial assistance would be granted by the state, according to this plan, which provides penalties for those failing to comply. Provision also is made for the punishment of married couples who remain childless.

AN URGENT PLEA FOR INTERVENTION

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, May 17.—An urgent plea for allied intervention in Russia to resist German aggression there is made by the Daily Chronicle in commenting upon Lord Robert Cecil's "admirably sympathetic reference to Russia" in the house of commons yesterday.

The paper says that the more the allies allow Russia to fall under German influence the harder it will be to extricate her eventually. It declares that Russia is now unable to recover herself without foreign military intervention.

JACKSONTOWN.

Prof. Walter Orr of Jersey was an over Sunday visitor at his home here.

The lecture given at the Hall on Monday evening by Private Daily was well attended and fully appreciated. Also the speech on the War Chest made by J. Henry Miller was certainly fine and to the point.

Mrs. W. V. Davis was called to Newark on Tuesday by the illness of her father, Mr. O. C. Larson. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Crow spent Sunday the guest of Dr. M. M. Harlick and family at Columbus.

Will You HELP Bring Back The Boys of This Community?

You Can Do Your Share by Contributing To Licking County's $360,000 War Relief Chest

When Peace, Liberty and Justice are finally established throughout the entire world and our boys come marching home, are you going to stand among the cheering thousands secure in the thought that you helped to bring them home, or are you going to belong to that class of "piker" patriots with plenty of empty cheers but with padlocks on their pocketbooks?

Will you be able to look those brave boys of ours in the eyes and say, 'I couldn't go "over there" to fight, but I contributed every dollar I could possibly spare, to provide for your comfort, to keep you from sickness, to heal your wounds--and bring you home?'

You will have the opportunity of proving your loyalty, your patriotism--your regard for our boys "over there."

Next week an army of over five hundred patriotic workers start their canvass of Newark and Licking County for the War Relief Chest.

They will see, personally, every man, woman and youth in this county, and if your heart is right, if you are a believer in Democracy and Freedom, you'll contribute to this war relief fund without any argument--you'll do more than your bit, you'll do your best.

Under the War Relief Chest Plan, you make one contribution for an entire year's war relief activities and you have the assurance of knowing that every dollar will be wisely and effectively used for such approved relief agencies as the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. war work, the Knights of Columbus war work, the Jewish war relief and many other worthy causes.

The War Relief Chest is a call for united effort. How shall we stand the test? The people of Newark and Licking County will come up to it fully, loyally and gladly. A few will refuse--to be forever branded as failing in the time of their country's need.

Let YOUR conscience be your guide.

THE CAMPAIGN STARTS NEXT MONDAY---BE READY!

How Licking County Will Fill Its $360,000 War Relief Chest

1—In one week's whirlwind campaign, the entire amount is to be raised, thus avoiding repeated efforts, wherein the same workers appeal to the same people for funds, time after time.

2—Every dollar will be used for war relief during the year commencing July 1st—the Red Cross, the Knights of Columbus War Work, the Y. M. C. A. War Work, the Jewish War Relief and all other such agencies for war work as may be found worthy.

3—Over five hundred workers, from every section of the county, will see, personally, everyone in this county.

4—Everybody can thus contribute once to all war relief needs, either in a lump sum or by monthly payments.

5—The expenses of the campaign are being paid from a separate fund, already provided, and none of your money will be used for that purpose.

6—Your committee will have the information and authority to judge what are the necessary war relief needs—and what is a fair quota for Newark and Licking county to pay.

TECHNICAL MEN CAN SECURE MANY GOOD POSITIONS

Washington, D. C., May 16.—An urgent call for high-grade technical men and skilled operatives to fill war positions in industrial establishments was made today, through the Civil Service, by the United States Army Ordnance. Salaries as high as $6000 a year will be paid men qualifying for certain places.

The men most vitally needed are to be employed in Nitrate Plant No. 1 which, opening almost immediately, will take nitrates from the air, thereby releasing a great amount of ship tonnage used until now in bringing salt-peter mined in Chili to the United States. The nitrates will be used in connection with explosives, TNT, or trinitrotoluol, and picric acid-stuffs that explode shell and shrapnel against the Hun.

Chemists and chemical engineers; men experienced in the manufacture of gas; mechanical engineers on high pressure apparatus; engineers to take charge of power houses; foremen of machine shops; junior mechanical engineers; operatives in gas manufacture; assistant operatives and mechanics are needed to help win the war. The Civilian Personnel Division of the Army Ordnance, at 1330 F. Street, Washington, in handling applications.

The Ordnance, in issuing its call for the men, is insisting on one point. No plant now working on contracts for the United States or its Allies is to be handicapped by the loss of a man. No applications, therefore, will be accepted from Government employees or employees of war-work plants unless written assent comes from the head of the establishment. Men of military age accepting appointment will not avoid the obligations of the Selective Service Law.

Superintendents of manufacturing plants engaged in chemical manufacturing processes, especially those connected with nitrogen fixation and the manufacturing of acids and explosives, will be paid salaries ranging from $2400 to $6000 a year. Assistant superintendents of nitro and chemical plants will be paid $1600 to $2400.

Applicants for superintendencies must have had a standard high school education or its equivalent, and at least five years' operating experience involving chemical processes in a manufacturing plant, or they must be college or university graduates with at least three years' of such experience. They must have been in responsible charge for at least two years of operations involving important chemical processes and must have earned salaries of at least $2000 a year.

Assistant Superintendents of nitrate and chemical plants must have had at least three years' operating experience if they are high school graduates, or one year's experience if college university graduates. In either case they must have earned at least $1200 a year. These superintendents and assistant superintendents will be assigned to duty at the Ordnance Department in Washington or elsewhere.

Chemical engineers, to be paid $2400 to $6000 a year, are wanted for duty at the Ordnance Office in Washington, and for duty at various plants through the United States. These men will have complete supervisory vision over one or more chemical manufacturing processes incidental to the war. They must be thoroughly experienced and of proved ability. The college or university degree in chemistry or chemical engineering and at least three years' experience in a chemical or mechanical industry, or a high school education or its equivalent and at least six years' such experience in a supervisory capacity is required.

Chemical engineers, with salaries ranging from $1600 to $2400 a year, and assistant chemical engineers with salaries ranging from $1200 to $1600 a year, also are needed by the Ordnance. The positions paying $1600 to $2400 are open to men who have been graduated in courses of chemical engineering from colleges or universities and who have had at least one year's operating experience in some chemical or mechanical industry, or who with a high school education or its equivalent have had at least four years' such experience. The positions paying from $1200 to $1600 a year are open to college or university graduates in chemical engineering who have had at least six months' operating experience, or with a high school education have had at least three years' such experience.

Operatives in gas manufacture—men to operate and control the processes of production of water gas and producer gas are urgently needed by the Ordnance. Applicants for these positions are paid $1600 to $2400 a year, and must have had at least five years' experience in high school graduates, or ten years' experience if their education has been only a common school education.

Salaries ranging from $1600 to $2400 will be paid Junior mechanical engineers on high pressure apparatus who wish to do their bit in winning the war by working for the Ordnance Department. Experience in the operation and control of high pressure hydraulic and gas machinery is necessary. At least one year of such experience will be required of graduates in mechanical engineering courses from recognized colleges. Four years' experience is required of high school graduates.

Power house engineers will be paid $1800 to $2400 a year while working for the Ordnance Department. Supervision of operation of water-tube boilers, condensers, pumps, steam turbines, and alternating and direct current generators and motors are among the duties of these men. Machine shop foremen with salaries from $1800 to $2400 also are wanted by the Army Ordnance. Ten years' experience as machinists—three years in a responsible supervisory capacity is required.

Assistant operatives in the manufacture of water gas and producer gas; mechanics experienced on high pressure apparatus; and operatives of gas manufacture, are also wanted by the Army Ordnance.
